DISTRICT OF NEVADA

PHILIP KARTER, et al.,

Plaintiffs,

vs.

SUNVEST COMMUNITIES USA, LLC, et al.,

Defendants.

Case No. 2:08-cv-00746-JCM-PAL

ORDER AND REPORT OF FINDINGS
AND RECOMMENDATION

(Mtn to Lift Stay - Dkt. #114)

The court held a hearing September 26, 2012, on Plaintiffs' Motion to Lift Stay, File Amended Complaint, Amend Caption, and Substitute Parties Pursuant to Rule 25(c) (Dkt. #114). Philip Karter appeared on behalf of Plaintiffs. Robert Robbins appeared on behalf of Desert Shores Holdings, LLC ("Desert Shores"), and Sunvest Communities, LLC ("Sunvest"); and Anthony Celeste appeared on behalf of Defendant NRT Development Advisors, LLC ("NRT"). The court has considered the Motion, NRT's Response (Dkt. #119); Desert Shores' and Sunvest's Response (Dkt. #120), including the Exhibits (Dkt. ##121-125, 127) and Errata (Dkt. #137); Defendant Countrywide Home Loans, Inc.'s ("Countrywide") Joinder (Dkt. #126); NRT's Joinder (Dkt. #130); Plaintiffs' Reply (Dkt. #136); and the arguments of counsel made on the record at the hearing.

BACKGROUND

I. Procedural History.

Plaintiffs filed the complaint in state court, and on June 9, 2008, Defendant NRT filed a Petition for Removal (Dkt. #1). The named Plaintiffs filed suit on behalf of themselves and others similarly situated, asserting claims against Defendants for rescission, breach of contract, fraud, violation of Nevada's Deceptive Trade Practices Act, violation of Nevada's Civil Racketeering Act, misrepresentation, breach of express warranty, breach of implied warranty, breach of fiduciary duty,

1 and conspiracy. The complaint arises out of Plaintiffs' purchase of condominium units at the Desert 2 Shores Villas from Sunvest and Desert Shores, the sellers (together, "the Arbitration Defendants").
3 Plaintiffs entered into nearly identical purchase agreements, which were drafted by the Arbitration
4 Defendants. Each purchase agreement contained an arbitration provision requiring that any claims, 5 controversies, breaches, or disputes arising out of or related to the purchase agreement be arbitrated
6 pursuant to the Federal Arbitration Act ("FAA"), 9 U.S.C. § 1 et seq. On September 26, 2008, 7 Plaintiffs filed a Motion to Compel Arbitration (Dkt. #41), seeking to compel arbitration with the 8 Arbitration Defendants and to stay the case as to the non-Arbitration Defendants. Countrywide opposed 9 the stay, requesting the court dismiss the Complaint against it and offering to dismiss its counterclaims.
10 After hearing oral argument, the court entered an Order (Dkt. #58) on November 25, 2008, compelling 11 arbitration of Plaintiffs' claims against the Arbitration Defendants and staying Plaintiffs claims against 12 the other Defendants pending arbitration. The court held periodic status checks regarding the status of 13 arbitration. See generally Minutes of Proceedings (Dkt. ##72, 74, 81). On June 21, 2010, Plaintiffs 14 filed a Motion to Rescind Order of Arbitration and Lift Stay (Dkt. #94). In an Order (Dkt. #97) entered 15 July 23, 2010, the court denied the Motion and directed the Plaintiffs and the Arbitration Defendants to 16 complete arbitration.

17 On December 8, 2011, District Judge Mahan entered an Order to Show Cause (Dkt. #102) why 18 this case should not be dismissed for Plaintiffs' failure to prosecute. The parties responded (Dkt.
19 ##104, 105), informing the court that the arbitration hearing was scheduled for February 20, 2012. On 20 March 7, 2012, the district judge entered an Order (Dkt. #108) directing the parties to file a joint status 21 report detailing the outcome of the arbitration. The parties did not file a joint status report because they 22 were unable to agree on the content of a joint submission. They filed separate Status Reports (Dkt.
23 ##110, 111, 112) informing the court that the February 20, 2012, arbitration hearing was continued at 24 the request of Plaintiffs' counsel. See Status Report (Dkt. #110). The arbitrator granted Plaintiffs' 25 request and continued the arbitration hearing until April 17, 2012. Id. Shortly thereafter, Plaintiffs' 26 counsel advised the arbitrator that the Arbitration Defendants were dissolved and defunct and that he 27 had informally asked this court to move the case from arbitration into the federal court because there 28 were no arbitrable claims remaining. After receiving this information from counsel for Plaintiffs, the 1 arbitrator issued an order suspending arbitration on April 12, 2012. The arbitrator's order, attached as 2 Exhibit 1 to the Arbitration Defendants' Supplement (Dkt. #112), observed that the arbitration was "fast

3 becoming an exercise in futility," especially in light of Plaintiffs' informal request to the court to move 4 the matter back to federal court. Id. The arbitrator suspended further arbitration "pending 5 determination by the federal court of its position in this matter." Id.

6 On April 20, 2012, the district judge entered an Order (Dkt. #113) directing Plaintiffs file an 7 appropriate motion with the court. The instant Motion to Lift Stay followed.

8 II. The Parties' Positions.

9 A. Plaintiffs' Motion to Lift Stay (Dkt. #114).

10 Plaintiffs seek an order: (a) lifting the stay imposed by the court's November 25, 2008, Order;
11 (b) granting leave to file a second amended complaint; and (c) substituting parties pursuant to Rule 12 25(c) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. Plaintiffs assert that various principals of the Arbitration
13 Defendants fraudulently stripped the companies of assets between 2005 and 2007, rendering them
14 defunct. Plaintiffs seek leave to file a second amended complaint substituting those principals—Harvey 15 Birdman, Herbert Hirsch, Dianne Birdman, Bonita Hirsch, and Harris Friedman (the "Proposed 16 Defendants")—pursuant to Rule 25(c) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure in the place of the 17 Arbitration Defendants. Plaintiffs contend the Proposed Defendants directly or indirectly owned 18 interests in the Arbitration Defendants and are either the successors-in-interest, alter egos, or fraudulent 19 transferees of the Arbitration Defendants. By stripping the Arbitration Defendants of assets, Plaintiffs 20 argue, the Proposed Defendants stand in the shoes of the Arbitration Defendants. Substitution under 21 Rule 25(c) is the only way Plaintiffs can prosecute their claims because the Arbitration Defendants are 22 defunct.

23 However, the Proposed Defendant are not signatories to the arbitration agreement, and as a 24 result, the arbitrator does not have jurisdiction over them or Plaintiffs' claims against them. Plaintiffs 25 assert they "no longer intend to pursue their claims against the now-defunct Arbitration Defendants," 26 and there is nothing further to arbitrate. Motion at 3:12-13. Thus, the stay should be lifted so that 27 Plaintiffs can prosecute their claims against the Proposed Defendants and the non-Arbitration

28 ///

1 Defendants in this forum.¹ Plaintiffs argue the Arbitration Defendants will not be prejudiced by 2 amendment because the Arbitration Defendants' own conduct caused the delay in arbitrating this case
3 and because they are defunct. With respect to the non-Arbitration Defendants, Plaintiffs have learned 4 information that will clarify the nature of Plaintiffs' claims, and allowing amendment will streamline 5 disposition of this matter. Finally, certain individual Plaintiffs no longer wish to participate in this 6 litigation, and the amended pleading will remove those Plaintiffs.

7 B. The Arbitration Defendants' Response (Dkt. #120).

8 The Arbitration Defendants oppose the motion and seek an order dismissing Plaintiffs' 9 Amended Complaint (Dkt. #59) because Plaintiffs have not diligently prosecuted their claims. The 10 Arbitration Defendants contend Plaintiffs have delayed arbitration, engaged in abusive discovery
11 practices, and raised frivolous arguments regarding the Arbitration Defendants' corporate dissolutions 12 in the instant Motion. Plaintiff Philip Karter, who is also Plaintiffs' counsel, is responsible for 13 substantial delays in this case. He received numerous extensions from the arbitrator to produce 14 discovery, received several postponements of the arbitration hearing, and allowed the case to become 15 inactive on several occasions during the arbitration process. The Arbitration Defendants cite a period of 16 inactivity between December 7, 2010, and March 18, 2011, as an example of Plaintiffs' failure to 17 prosecute. As a result of this inactivity, the AAA held the case in abeyance. The opposition contains a 18 chart listing all of the delays the Arbitration Defendants claim were caused by the Plaintiffs and counsel 19 for Plaintiffs, Mr. Karter.

20 The Arbitration Defendants assert Plaintiffs' counsel has also engaged in abusive discovery 21 practices. Many Plaintiffs failed to respond to the Arbitration Defendants' interrogatories, despite 22 being granted extensions of nearly two years. The Arbitration Defendants also assert that Mr. Karter 23 cancelled his and another Plaintiff's deposition the day before they were noticed to begin and only 24 weeks before the arbitration hearing was to begin. A number of the Plaintiffs ignored several discovery 25 requests outright, failing to produce documents in their possession that they referred to in depositions.

26
27 ¹ Plaintiff asserts that although some of the Proposed Defendants reside in the same state as some 28 of the Plaintiffs, the court will not be divested of diversity jurisdiction because federal jurisdiction is tested according to the facts in existence when the case was filed.

1 Mr. Karter did not require his clients review their discovery responses, and he even drafted some 2 Plaintiffs' responses and submitted them to defense counsel without those Plaintiffs' knowledge. As a 3 sanction, the arbitrator dismissed a number of the Plaintiffs who failed to participate in discovery.

4 With respect to Plaintiffs' argument that the Arbitration Defendants are defunct, both Florida
5 and Nevada law² provide that a dissolved company can be sued and can participate in arbitration. See 6 NRS 86.505 ("[t]he dissolution of a limited-liability company does not impair any remedy or cause of 7 action available to or against it or its managers or members arising before its dissolution and 8 commenced within two years after the date of dissolution"); F.S.A. § 608.4431(2)(b) ("[d]issolution of 9 a limited liability company does not . . . prevent commencement of a proceeding by or against the 10 limited liability company in its name"). Desert Shores was dissolved in May 2008. The Amended 11 Complaint alleges that Plaintiffs' claims arose during May 2005. Thus, the claims against Desert 12 Shores arose before its dissolution, and NRS 86.505 allows Plaintiffs' claims to proceed against Desert
13 Shores. It specifically provides that Plaintiffs recover against Desert Shores despite Desert Shores' 14 dissolution. Similarly, F.S.A. § 608.4431(2)(b) permits Plaintiffs to prosecute their claims against 15 Sunvest despite its dissolution. Plaintiffs have been aware since September 2009 that Sunvest was 16 suffering financial problems, as evidenced by an email Plaintiffs' former counsel, Mr. Eric Fox, sent to 17 Mr. Karter on September 22, 2009, discussing Sunvest's precarious financial condition. The 18 Arbitration Defendants have attached additional documents as Exhibit 1 to their response in which they 19 assert Mr. Karter acknowledged his awareness of Sunvest's finances.

20 The Arbitration Defendants argue that Plaintiffs' dilatory conduct and discovery abuses should 21 preclude a further amendment under Rule 15 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. Additionally, 22 amendment would be futile with respect to Plaintiffs' claims under NRS Chapter 116 which requires a 23 litigant to be a unit owner, because some of the Plaintiffs, including Mr. Karter, no longer own 24 condominium units at Desert Shores Villas. Substitution under Rule 25 is equally inappropriate where, 25 as here, Plaintiffs are statutorily permitted to bring claims against dissolved corporations.

26
27 ²Sunvest is a Florida limited liability corporation, and Desert Shores is a Nevada limited liability 28 corporation.

1 C. NRT's Response (Dkt. #119).

2 Relying on NRS 86.505 and F.S.A. 608.4431(2), NRT contends Plaintiffs' Motion should be 3 denied because a dissolved company continues for the purpose of prosecuting or defending a lawsuit, 4 and substitution is, therefore, unnecessary. Additionally, if the court allows substitution of the 5 Proposed Defendants, they would assume the same rights and obligations of the Arbitration Defendants, 6 including the rights and obligations created by the purchase agreements at issue that contain the 7 arbitration requirement. NRT also filed a joinder to the Arbitration Defendants' Response (Dkt#130).

8 D. Plaintiffs' Reply (Dkt. #136).

9 Plaintiffs contend they are not bound to arbitrate their claims against the Arbitration Defendants 10 because the Arbitration Defendants failed to comply with NRS 86.531(d). That provision requires a 11 limited liability company preparing its articles of dissolution to certify that "adequate provision has 12 been made for the satisfaction of any judgment, order or decree which may be entered against it in any 13 pending suit." NRS 86.531(d). The Arbitration Defendants did not make adequate provision for a 14 judgment in this case in compliance with NRS 86.531(d), and therefore, they cannot rely on NRS 15 86.505. Although Desert Shores' Articles of Dissolution state that adequate provision for the 16 satisfaction of any judgment was made, Plaintiff contends "it simply is not true." Reply at 6:7.

17 Relying on the Ninth Circuit's decision in Carpenters 46 Northern California Counties
18 Conference Board v. Zcon Builders, 96 F.3d 410, 414-16 (9th Cir. 1996), Plaintiffs contend that the 19 arbitrator cannot compel the Proposed Defendants to arbitrate. Whether the Proposed Defendants are 20 subject to the arbitration provision is a matter of arbitrability and is a decision for the courts, not the 21 arbitrator. The arbitrator recognized this, and as a result, he entered the April 12, 2012, order staying 22 the arbitration. See Supplement (Dkt. #118) at Exhibit 1 ("Under the circumstances and because it 23 appears that the [Plaintiffs'] counsel has informally asked the Federal Court to move the matter back to 24 the Federal Courts because there are no arbitrable Respondents left and to avoid further expense to the 25 litigants, the Arbitrator is suspending any further activity on this case pending determination by the 26 Federal Courts of its position in this matter"). Plaintiffs assert the court should determine whether 27 Desert Shores' violation of NRS 86.531 invalidates the agreement to arbitrate.

28 ///

Alternatively, if the court allows substitution of the Proposed Defendants but compels Plaintiffs to arbitrate their claims against the Proposed Defendants, Plaintiffs ask that the court lift the stay as to Plaintiff's claims against NRT and Countrywide because those claims are severable. Plaintiffs assert NRS 38.221(7) allows to the court to limit the scope of the stay as to only Plaintiffs' claims against the Proposed Defendants. Finally, Plaintiffs dispute the Arbitration Defendants' characterization of Mr. Karter's and the Plaintiffs' conduct, asserting they did not postpone depositions improperly. Plaintiffs do not admit to engaging in abusive discovery practices.

DISCUSSION

For the reasons set forth below, the court finds Plaintiffs have not diligently prosecuted this case as required by Rule 41(b) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure or complied with multiple Orders of this court and recommends that Plaintiffs' case be dismissed.

I. Findings.

Having reviewed and considered the moving and responsive papers, and the entire record in this case, the court makes the following findings:

1. Plaintiffs filed the complaint in state court on April 24, 2008. See Exhibit A to Defendant NRT's Petition for Removal (Dkt. #1).
2. The named Plaintiffs filed suit on behalf of themselves and others similarly situated, asserting claims against Defendants for rescission, breach of contract, fraud, violation of Nevada's Deceptive Trade Practices Act, violation of Nevada's Civil Racketeering Act, misrepresentation, breach of express warranty, breach of implied warranty, breach of fiduciary duty, and conspiracy. Id.
3. The complaint arises out of Plaintiffs' purchase of condominium units at the Desert Shores Villas from Sunvest and Desert Shores (together, the "Arbitration Defendants"), the sellers. Id. In conjunction with those purchases, Plaintiffs entered into nearly identical purchase agreements, which were drafted by the Arbitration Defendants. Each purchase agreement contained an arbitration provision requiring that any claims, controversies, breaches, or disputes arising out of or related to the purchase agreement be arbitrated pursuant to the Federal Arbitration Act ("FAA"), 9 U.S.C. § 1 et seq. Id.

- 1 4. On June 9, 2008, Defendant NRT removed Plaintiffs' complaint to this court, asserting
2 the court had original jurisdiction under the Class Action Fairness Act of 2005, 28 3 U.S.C. § 1332(d)(2). See Notice of Removal (Dkt. #1).
- 4 5. Plaintiffs filed a Motion to Compel Arbitration (Dkt. #41) on September 26, 2008, 5 asserting that the court should (a) compel arbitration of Plaintiffs' claims against the 6 Arbitration Defendants; and (b) stay the case as to the non-Arbitration Defendants 7 pursuant to the FAA. See Motion to Compel (Dkt. #41).
- 8 6. The Arbitration Defendants initially opposed the Motion to Compel Arbitration, 9 asserting Plaintiffs waived their right to arbitrate by filing this lawsuit. During oral 10 argument, however, both Plaintiffs and the Arbitration Defendants agreed to submit to 11 arbitration. See Order (Dkt. #97) at 2:23-27.
- 12 7. On November 25, 2008, the court entered an Order (Dkt. #58) compelling arbitration of 13 Plaintiffs' claims against the Arbitration Defendants and staying Plaintiffs' claims 14 against the remaining Defendants pending arbitration. See Order (Dkt. #58).
- 15 8. The court held periodic status checks regarding the status of arbitration. See generally 16 Minutes of Proceedings (Dkt. ##72, 74, 81, 90).
- 17 9. At the June 2, 2009, status conference, counsel for the parties represented it would take 18 approximately six months to prepare and schedule this case for arbitration. See Minutes 19 of Proceeding (Dkt. #72).
- 20 10. At the August 18, 2009, conference, counsel informed the court that arbitration was not 21 yet complete. The court reminded counsel that claims against the non-Arbitration 22 Defendants were stayed until arbitration concluded and required the parties to exercise 23 their best faith effort to complete arbitration within ninety days. See Minutes of 24 Proceeding (Dkt. #74).
- 25 11. In September 2009, the parties had still not selected an arbitrating body (i.e., the AAA or 26 a private arbitrator) or an arbitrator. See Plaintiffs' Response to Order to Show Cause 27 (Dkt. #105). At the same time, Plaintiffs' former counsel emailed Mr. Karter and 28 advised him that Sunvest had minimal funds to defend this case, Sunvest's counsel

1 expected to seek leave to withdraw, and when Sunvest's defense funds were exhausted, 2 Plaintiff could "probably" seek default judgment against Sunvest. See Exhibit A to 3 Plaintiffs' Response to Order to Show Cause (Dkt. #105).

4 12. On October 9, 2009, the parties selected Charles W. Deaner as arbitrator, and the AAA 5 issued a letter confirming Mr. Deaner's selection on October 20, 2009. See Letter, 6 attached as Exhibit B to Plaintiffs' Response to Order to Show Cause (Dkt. #105).

7 13. Mr. Karter filed a Verified Petition for Permission to Practice Pro Hac Vice (Dkt. #76)
8 November 10, 2009.

9 14. On November 10, 2009 the parties also filed a Joint Status Report (Dkt. #75), advising 10 the court that an arbitration hearing was scheduled for February 8, 2010.

11 15. In an order entered December 21, 2009, the arbitrator allowed Plaintiffs to seek 12 reciprocal discovery from the Arbitration Defendants and continued the arbitration 13 hearing until April 12, 2010, at the request of counsel for the Plaintiffs. See Order, 14 attached as Exhibit D to Plaintiffs' Response to Order to Show Cause (Dkt. #105). The 15 Order indicates that Mr. Karter advised the arbitrator and counsel for the Arbitration 16 Defendants that Plaintiffs had discharged the law firm of Marquis & Aurbach as their 17 attorneys. Id. Mr Karter also expressed concern that the Plaintiffs would be unable to 18 answer the interrogatories which should have been answered by December 4, 2009, 19 according to the arbitrator's scheduling order. Id. The arbitrator's order reported that 20 Mr. Karter indicated that the interrogatories had not been answered "because of 21 differences with the Las Vegas law firm and the multi-state residence of the Claimants."
22 Id. The Plaintiffs were ordered to respond to interrogatories and to provide an initial list 23 of witness and exhibits no later than January 15, 2010. Id. The Plaintiffs were also 24 given leave to serve thirty interrogatories on the Arbitration Defendants on or before 25 January 15, 2010. Id. The Arbitration Defendants were given until February 1, 2010, to 26 respond. Id.

27 16. The arbitration parties then engaged in discovery. See generally Plaintiffs' Response to 28 Order to Show Cause (Dkt. #105).

- 1 17. In a Minute Order (Dkt. #77) entered November 17, 2009, District Judge Mahan directed 2 Mr. Karter to file an amended verified petition to practice pro hac vice because Mr.
3 Karter had not responded to Question Nine in his original petition. Id.
- 4 18. Mr. Karter complied on November 30, 2009. See Notice of Corrected Image (Dkt. #79).
- 5 19. On February 3, 2010, the arbitrator issued a letter stating that because of uncertainty over 6 Mr. Karter's ability to represent the Plaintiffs in arbitration, "the matter is now out of my 7 hands . . . [and u]ntil the matter is resolved either by the Federal Court in Las Vegas or 8 the State Bar of Nevada or both, I cannot proceed with the Arbitration." See Letter, 9 attached as Exhibit G to Plaintiffs' Response to Order to Show Cause (Dkt. #105).
- 10 20. At the February 23, 2010, status conference before this court, counsel represented that in 11 addition to certain discovery disputes, the arbitration could not proceed because Mr.
12 Karter's Verified Petition for Permission to Practice Pro Hac Vice (Dkt. #76) had not 13 been approved, and Mr. Karter is not a licensed attorney in Nevada. See Minutes (Dkt.
14 #81). The court directed Mr. Karter to file an amended verified petition specifying the 15 parties he intended to represent within fourteen days. Id.
- 16 21. Mr. Karter complied on March 9, 2010. See Notice of Corrected Image (Dkt. #82).
- 17 22. In an Order (Dkt. #86) entered March 15, 2010, the district judge granted Mr. Karter's 18 Verified Petition, over the limited objections of Desert Shores and Countrywide.
- 19 23. On March 17, 2010, Desert Shores and Countrywide filed a Joint Motion (Dkt. #87)
20 requesting the district judge reconsider his Order approving Mr. Karter's Verified 21 Petition.
- 22 24. The district judge denied the Joint Motion to Reconsider in an Order (Dkt. #93) entered 23 May 18, 2010.
- 24 25. On June 21, 2010, Plaintiffs filed a Motion to Rescind Order of Arbitration and Lift Stay 25 (Dkt. #94).
- 26 26. In an Order (Dkt. #97) entered July 23, 2010, the court denied Plaintiffs' Motion to 27 Rescind and ordered the Plaintiffs and the Arbitration Defendants to complete 28 arbitration. See Order (Dkt. #97) at 3:1-10.

- 1 27. Between December 2010 and February 2012, the arbitration parties engaged in 2 discovery, and the arbitrator decided a number of the parties' disputes. See generally
3 Plaintiffs' Response to Order to Show Cause (Dkt. #105), and the parties' March, 2012 4 status reports (Dkt. ## 109, 110, 111 & 112).
- 5 28. In an order entered September 13, 2011, the arbitrator warned that any Plaintiff who 6 failed to comply with their discovery obligations by mid-October 2011 would be barred 7 from arbitration. See Order, attached as Exhibit W to Plaintiffs' Response to Order to 8 Show Cause (Dkt. #105).
- 9 29. After more than ten months of inactivity in this federal case, District Judge Mahan 10 entered an Order (Dkt. #99) on May 24, 2011, directing the parties to file a joint status 11 report advising the court about the status of arbitration.
- 12 30. The parties complied on June 7, 2011, and advised the court about their various 13 discovery disputes in the arbitration, and informed the court that the arbitration had been 14 held in abeyance by the AAA because, according to the AAA, "[t]here has been very 15 little activity on this matter. We suggest that this matter be held in abeyance if the 16 parties are not ready to proceed at this time." Joint Status Report (Dkt. #100).
- 17 31. Six months later, on December 8, 2011, the district judge entered an Order to Show 18 Cause (Dkt. #102) why this case should not be dismissed for Plaintiffs' failure to 19 prosecute.
- 20 32. On December 22, 2011, Plaintiffs' former counsel, Mr. Eric Fox, filed a Motion to 21 Withdraw as Attorney (Dkt. #103).
- 22 33. The parties each responded to the Order to Show Cause on December 22, 2011, and 23 informed the court that the arbitration hearing was scheduled for February 20, 2012. See 24 Responses (Dkt. ##104, 105); Order (Dkt. #107).
- 25 34. On December 27, 2011, the undersigned denied Mr. Fox's Motion to Withdraw because 26 he did not provide proof of service of the Motion on the Plaintiffs and did not provide 27 the Plaintiffs' last known addresses. See Order (Dkt. #106).

28 ///

- 1 35. Mr. Karter filed a Notice of Appearance (Dkt. #107) on behalf of the Plaintiffs on 2 January 13, 2012.
- 3 36. On February 23, 2012, Plaintiffs counsel sent a letter to counsel for the Arbitration
4 Defendants, Mr. Robbins, advising him that in light of the Arbitration Defendants’ 5 dissolution, Plaintiffs would not submit to the final two depositions noticed by the 6 Arbitration Defendants. See Letter, attached as Exhibit D to Plaintiffs’ Status Report
7 (Dkt. #110). The depositions were scheduled for the following day, February 24, 2012.
8 Id. The letter stated, “the scheduling of these depositions will have to be delayed at least 9 until a hearing with Arbitrator Deaner can be held to address the matter discussed 10 below.” Id. The letter then addressed counsel for Plaintiffs’ contention that Plaintiffs 11 were unaware that the two named Arbitration Defendants were defunct legal entities 12 until taking the deposition testimony of Messrs. Harvey Birdman, Louis Birdman, 13 Herbert Hirsch, and Harris Friedman the previous week. Id. The letter acknowledged 14 that counsel for the Arbitration Defendants had previously represented both to Mr.
15 Karter and Mr. Eric Fox that the Arbitration Defendants were in precarious financial 16 state. Id. However, the letter also indicated that Mr. Karter did not “recall ever being 17 advised that the companies no longer existed and had not, in fact, for some time.” Id.
- 18 37. Mr. Karter’s February 23, 2012, letter to counsel for the Arbitration Defendants also 19 indicated that copies of his correspondence were sent to Arbitrator Deaner and the 20 manager of ADR Services for the American Arbitration Association, and that Mr. Karter 21 would be requesting a hearing before the arbitrator “to address, and hopefully resolve, 22 the representation and jurisdictional issues discussed” in the letter. Id.
- 23 38. On March 7, 2012, the district judge entered an Order (Dkt. #108) directing the parties to 24 file a joint status report detailing the outcome of the arbitration.
- 25 39. The parties did not file a joint status report as ordered because they were unable to agree 26 on the contents of a submission, and they filed separate Status Reports (Dkt. ##109, 110, 27 111, 112). Among other things, they informed the court that the arbitration hearing had 28 been continued at Plaintiffs’ request until April 17, 2012. See Arbitrator’s Order,

1 attached as Exhibit B to Plaintiffs' Status Report (Dkt. #110).

2 40. After Arbitrator Deaner received the Plaintiffs' February 23, 2012, letter, and was 3 apprised that counsel for Plaintiffs "has informally asked the Federal Court to move the 4 matter back to the Federal Courts because there are no arbitrable Respondents left and to 5 avoid further expense to the litigants" the arbitrator issued an order suspending 6 arbitration on April 12, 2012. See Order, attached as Exhibit 1 to the Arbitration
7 Defendants' Supplement (Dkt. #112). The arbitrator's order observed that the arbitration 8 was "fast becoming an exercise in futility." He therefore suspended "any further activity 9 on this case pending determination by the Federal Courts of its position in this matter."
10 Id.

11 41. On April 20, 2012, the district judge entered an Order (Dkt. #113) directing Plaintiffs 12 file an appropriate motion with the court. The instant Motion to Lift Stay (Dkt. #114) 13 followed.

14 42. On May 17, 2012, Messrs. Fox and Higbee filed a Motion to Withdraw (Dkt. #129) on 15 the grounds they had not received payment for attorneys fees expended in excess of 16 $12,000.00. The motion also represented that Plaintiffs had retained Brent Carson of the 17 local firm of Winner & Carson. The court granted the motion to withdraw on May 23, 18 2012. See Order (Dkt. #134).

19 II. Analysis and Conclusion.

20 The court recognizes that the recommendation of dismissal is a harsh sanction and does not 21 recommend it to the district judge lightly. However, this case has been on the court's docket for more 22 than four years, and is no closer to resolution than the day it was removed on June 9, 2008. There 23 comes a point on the court's congested docket when enough is enough. A large amount of judicial 24 resources have been devoted to attempting to move this case towards final resolution. Granting 25 Plaintiffs' current motion would result in starting entirely over.

26 Counsel for Plaintiffs have known since September 2009, about the Arbitration Defendants' 27 precarious financial condition. The court accepts Mr. Karter's representation that until he took the 28 deposition of individual principals of the Arbitration Defendants in February 2012, he was not aware

1 that they had filed articles of dissolution. However, as the Arbitration Defendants point out in 2 opposition to the current motion, a routine, free, and online check with the Secretary of State would 3 have revealed this information. Of course, counsel for Plaintiffs could also simply have inquired of 4 opposing counsel of their corporate status after being advised in September 2009, that the Arbitration 5 Defendants had only approximately $20,000.00 to spend to defend Plaintiffs' claims in arbitration.
6 They did neither.

7 Plaintiffs' motion now seeks to abandon all claims against the Arbitration Defendants.
8 Plaintiffs have not asked the Arbitration Defendants to stipulate to a voluntary dismissal. Rather, they 9 simply seek to "drop" the Arbitration Defendants from their complaint, substituting in their place six 10 individuals who are Florida residents who are alleged to have "directly or indirectly owned" the 11 Arbitration Defendants "through one or more other limited liability companies, trusts or other business 12 entities." See Proposed Second Amended Complaint, ¶28, attached as an exhibit to Plaintiff's Motion 13 (Dkt. #114). One of these individuals is alleged "on information and belief" to have either "owned or 14 held a managerial position with Desert Shores Holdings, LLC, and possibly other SUNVEST entities 15 directly or indirectly involved with Desert Shores." Id. Plaintiffs' motion proposes substituting these 16 individuals as Defendants under Rule 25(c) to allow a continuation of this action because "on 17 information and belief, they each also withdrew substantial sums of money from at least one of the 18 Arbitration Defendants, Desert Shores Holding, LLC, at a time when that entity had a legal obligation 19 to fund the homeowners association at Desert Shores Villas." See Motion (Dkt. #114) at 5:18-23. As 20 counsel for Plaintiffs confirmed during oral argument on the motion, the claims against these 21 individuals are all based on what they did or did not do in 2005 and 2006, or 2007 at the latest, long 22 before the initial complaint in this case was filed in state court. Plaintiffs claim that allowing 23 substitution under Rule 25(c) will facilitate the conduct of this case and expedite and simplify this 24 action. The court disagrees.

25 Plaintiffs' proposed second amended complaint would also "drop" a number of Plaintiffs from 26 this action. The motion states that counsel for Plaintiffs is advised that a number of individual 27 Plaintiffs no longer wish to participate in this litigation, or have repeatedly failed to communicate their 28 intentions after multiple inquiries. Id. at 5:5-7. It is undisputed that a number of the Plaintiffs were

1 already stricken from the arbitration because of their failure to respond to written discovery and 2 participate as ordered by the arbitrator. Before striking their claims the arbitrator warned them their 3 claims would be stricken if they failed to comply with their discovery obligations and participate. If the 4 court granted the relief Plaintiffs request, they would essentially be allowed a “do over”—to abandon the 5 case they filed and start over with a new cast of characters. The Plaintiffs have not yet established that 6 the Arbitration Defendants are liable, yet they wish to substitute individuals who stand in their shoes on 7 alter-ego and other theories. Allowing Rule 25(c) substitution of parties will not expedite or simplify 8 this action. It will make it more complex and time consuming as Plaintiffs attempt to prove that the six 9 individual proposed Defendants are responsible for the Arbitration Defendants’ as yet unproven 10 liability.

11 The court granted Plaintiffs’ motion to compel the Arbitration Defendants to arbitrate, and to 12 stay this action as to the non-Arbitration Defendants on November 25, 2008. It took nearly a year for 13 the arbitration parties to agree on an arbitrator. At the June 2, 2009, status conference, counsel for the 14 parties advised the court that they believed it would take approximately six months to prepare and 15 schedule this case for arbitration. See Minutes of Proceedings (Dkt. #72). The court continued the 16 matter for a further status conference on August 18, 2009. At that status conference, the undersigned 17 reminded counsel that the claims against the non-Arbitration Defendants were stayed, and directed that 18 the parties exercise their best efforts to complete arbitration within ninety days. See Minutes of 19 Proceedings (Dkt. #74). It was not until October 9, 2009, that the parties agreed to the American 20 Arbitration Association, and Charles W. Deaner to serve as an arbitrator in this action. The record does 21 not support a finding that the Plaintiffs were solely responsible for this initial 11-month delay in 22 selecting an arbitrator. However, the Plaintiffs were clearly on notice that the court was dissatisfied 23 about the parties’ progress, and the prolonged period the case had been stayed against the non-24 Arbitration Defendants.

25 During oral argument, counsel for Plaintiffs made it clear that he was disagreed with some of 26 the decisions made by prior counsel. He made a point of telling the court that he was not the attorney 27 who filed the motion to compel arbitration. He also advised the court that he disagreed with the 28 decision to request arbitration without discovery. On October 28, 2009, the arbitrator issued an order

1 permitting the Arbitration Defendants to serve Plaintiffs with interrogatories. See Plaintiffs' Response 2 to Order to Show Cause (Dkt. #105) 4:19-24. A copy of the arbitrator's order was attached as an 3 exhibit to Plaintiffs' response to the order to show cause. Plaintiffs' counsel did not receive reciprocal 4 discovery because counsel for Plaintiffs did not ask for any discovery. At a December 21, 2009, 5 hearing before the arbitrator, Mr. Karter requested and received the arbitrator's approval for Plaintiffs to 6 take reciprocal discovery from the Arbitration Defendants. Id. at 5:11-17. A copy of the arbitrator's 7 order permitting reciprocal discovery was attached as Exhibit D to Plaintiffs' response to the order to 8 show cause. The order postponed the arbitration hearing originally scheduled for February 8, 2010, to 9 April 12, 2010. Id. The arbitrator set a January 15, 2010, deadline for Plaintiffs to serve discovery, and 10 a February 1, 2010, deadline for Defendants to respond. Id.

11 The arbitration parties engaged in what appears to be contentious discovery between December 12 2010, and February 2012, and the arbitrator decided a number of the parties' disputes. See generally 13 Plaintiff's Response to Order to Show Cause (Dkt. #105, and the parties' March, 2012 status reports to 14 the court (Dkt. ##109,110,111 &112). On June 21, 2010, Plaintiffs filed a Motion to Rescind the Order 15 of Arbitration, and Lift Stay (Dkt. #94). The motion argued the court should rescind the order of 16 arbitration and asked that the court now supervise Plaintiffs' claims against the Arbitration Defendants.
17 The motion argued that the purpose of arbitration could no longer be achieved because the Defendants 18 had been responsible for delay in the preceding eighteen months, and Plaintiffs were no longer able to 19 achieve a cost-effective and speedy resolution of their claims against the Arbitration Defendants 20 through arbitration.

21 The motion to rescind complained that discovery disputes had raised the cost of proceeding in 22 arbitration, and that restoring the case to the court's docket would hold down costs because "Plaintiffs 23 are not paying counsel for attorney time, nor would they be obligated to pay an arbitrator's fee." The 24 motion indicated that the Arbitration Defendants' counsel had claimed insolvency. Id. at 8:3-4.
25 Plaintiffs argued that they needed discovery to test the legitimacy of this claim, and that "it would be 26 foolhardy for Plaintiffs to incur the costs associated with the arbitration proceeding without being in a 27 position to verify the claims of Sunvest and Desert Shores' counsel that his clients are essentially 28 insolvent." Id. at 8:5-9. Finally, Plaintiffs argued that the only way they could be assured that their

1 discovery rights would be respected, including the right to verify Sunvest's and Desert Shores' claims 2 of insolvency, was "to restore judicial supervision over the matter to the District Court." Id. at 9-12.
3 The court denied the motion to rescind the order and ordered the Plaintiffs to arbitrate because the 4 parties' agreements required arbitration under the FAA and the Supreme Court has made it abundantly 5 clear that arbitration agreements should be rigorously enforced. See, e.g., Shearson/Am. Express, Inc. v.
6 McMahon, 482 U.S. 220, 226-27 (1987). Additionally, the Plaintiffs cited no legal authority 7 supporting their request for the court to rescind an order compelling the parties to comply with their 8 agreement to arbitrate based on a party's asserted insolvency.

9 Two orders to arbitrate, multiple status conferences, and an order to show cause why the case 10 should not be dismissed for failure to prosecute have thus far been ineffective in compelling the 11 Plaintiffs to arbitrate as they initially requested, and the court ordered. Although the Plaintiffs and their 12 counsel are not responsible for all of the delay, they are clearly responsible for the arbitration not 13 proceeding as scheduled on February 20, 2012, which was continued at counsel for Plaintiffs' request.
14 Plaintiffs are also clearly responsible for the arbitration not proceeding as scheduled on April 17, 2012.
15 As Plaintiffs' own filings make clear, there were only two Plaintiffs' depositions which remained to be 16 taken on February 24, 2012, when counsel for Plaintiffs, Mr. Karter, sent his February 23, 2012, letter 17 to opposing counsel and the arbitrator indicating he would not agree to the final two depositions going 18 forward. One of those two depositions was for Mr Karter, who is both a Plaintiff and counsel for the 19 Plaintiffs. Mr Karter's February 23, 2012 letter also stated that he wanted a hearing before the 20 arbitrator to inquire about the legal status of the Arbitration Defendants, and whether "there remains 21 any arbitration jurisdiction over the matter given that there is no legally existing Arbitration Defendant, 22 nor any identified successor-in-interest." See Plaintiffs' Status Report (Dkt. #110), Exhibit D.

23 This action was taken after the district judge entered his December 8, 2011, Order to Show 24 Cause why this case should not be dismissed for Plaintiffs' failure to prosecute. It was also after the 25 parties had advised the court in their separate status reports that the arbitration was scheduled for 26 February 20, 2012, and then continued to April 17, 2012, at Plaintiffs' request. Understandably, when 27 the arbitrator learned that the Plaintiffs had again asked this court to move the matter back to federal 28 court, the arbitrator issued his April 12, 2012 order suspending the April 17, 2012, arbitration,

1 concluding arbitration was “fast becoming an exercise in futility.” The Arbitration Defendants’ 2 asserted insolvency was one of the primary reasons cited by the Plaintiffs nearly two years earlier for 3 returning the case to federal court, and certainly not a new issue.

4 Rule 41 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure requires that Plaintiffs prosecute their claims 5 and authorizes involuntary dismissal for failure to prosecute or comply with a court order. The 6 Defendants’ opposition requests dismissal. However, even in the absence of a motion to dismiss, the 7 court has the inherent power to dismiss a case for lack of prosecution sua sponte. Henderson v.
8 Duncan, 779 F.2d 1421, 1423 (9th Cir. 1986).

9 Rule 16(f) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure also authorizes the court to impose sanctions
10 on a party’s motion or on its own, including any sanctions authorized by Rule 37(b)(2)(A)(ii-vii), if a 11 party or its attorney fails to obey a pretrial order. Id. The available sanctions include, among other 12 things, striking a party’s pleadings in whole or in part. Fed.R.Civ.P. 37(b)(2)(A)(iii). Rule 16(f) gives 13 the court broad discretion to sanction attorneys and parties who fail to comply with reasonable pretrial 14 orders of the court to insure that they “fulfill their high duty to insure the expeditious and sound 15 management of the preparation of cases for trial.” Matter of Sanctions of Baker, 744 F.2d 1438, 1440 16 (10th Cir. 1994) (en banc). The Ninth Circuit has held that the purpose of Rule 16 is “to encourage 17 forceful judicial management.” Sherman v. United States, 801 F.2d 1133, 1135 (9th Cir. 1986); see 18 also advisory committee’s note to Fed.R.Civ.P. 16 (stating “explicit reference to sanctions reinforces 19 the rule’s intention to encourage forceful judicial management”).

20 Violations of Rule 16 are neither technical nor trivial. Martin Family Trust v. Heco-Nostalgia 21 Enterprises, Co., 186 F.R.D. 601, 603 (E.D. Ca. 1999). Rule 16 is critical to the court’s management of 22 its docket and prevents unnecessary delays in adjudicating cases. Id. The Ninth Circuit has emphasized 23 that a case management order “is not a frivolous piece of paper, idly entered, which can be cavalierly 24 disregarded by counsel without peril.” Johnson v. Mammoth Recreations, Inc., 975 F.2d 604, 610 (9th 25 Cir. 1992) (internal quotations and citations omitted). Disregard of a court order undermines the court’s 26 ability to control its docket and rewards the indolent and cavalier. Id.

27 The court finds that Plaintiffs’ failure to diligently prosecute this case through arbitration and 28 comply with the court’s orders warrants involuntary dismissal under Rule 41. The arbitrator has set an

1 arbitration hearing four times. After the court denied Plaintiffs' motion to rescind the order compelling
2 arbitration on July 23, 2010, the parties returned to arbitration and engaged in discovery. They had a 3 number discovery disputes which the arbitrator addressed and resolved. . The arbitrator reset the 4 arbitration hearing for February 20, 2012, after establishing deadlines to complete discovery and 5 continued the hearing until April 17, 2012, at the request of the Plaintiffs. On February 23, 2012, when 6 counsel for Plaintiff sent his letter to opposing counsel, providing a copy to the arbitrator, the parties
7 were two depositions away from concluding all discovery. The parties were also fifty-four days away 8 from the April 17, 2012, scheduled arbitration hearing. Plaintiffs' refusal to go forward with the final 9 two depositions, and announced intention to return to federal court to raise "jurisdiction" issues related 10 to the Arbitration Defendants' insolvency, resulted in the arbitration hearing being suspended. The 11 Arbitration Defendants' precarious financial condition, and near insolvency, had been conveyed to 12 counsel for Plaintiffs in September 2009, and was raised as a reason to return to federal court in 13 Plaintiffs' June 2010 motion to rescind the order of arbitration and lift stay. While counsel for 14 Plaintiffs may have learned more information during discovery in arbitration proceedings than he had in 15 September 2009, it was not new news to the Plaintiffs in February 2012, that the Arbitration Defendants 16 may ultimately lack funds to satisfy a potential judgment. However, the Arbitration Defendants were 17 defending themselves in arbitration, engaging in discovery and prepared to arbitrate. Plaintiffs were not 18 prepared to arbitrate.

19 The Ninth Circuit has enunciated a five-factor test to determine when imposing the "harsh 20 penalty" of case-dispositive sanctions is warranted. See Henry v. Gill Indus., 983 F.2d 943, 948 (9th 21 Cir. 1993) (citing Porter v. Martinez, 941 F.2d 732, 733 (9th Cir. 1991)). The district court must 22 evaluate: (1) the public's interest in expeditious resolution of litigation; (2) the court's need to manage 23 its docket; (3) the risk of prejudice to the party seeking sanctions; (4) the public policy favoring 24 disposition of cases on their merits; and (5) the availability of less drastic sanctions. The key factors are 25 prejudice and the availability of less drastic sanctions. Wanderer v. Johnson, 910 F.2d 652, 656 (9th 26 Cir. 1990); See also Adriana Int'l Corp. v. Thoeren, 913 F.2d 1406, 1411 (9th Cir. 1990), cert. denied, 27 498 U.S. 1109 (1991) (district court properly considered all of defendant's misconduct during discovery 28 in ordering default judgment).

1 The court finds that the public's interest in expeditious resolution of litigation and the court's 2 interest in managing its docket favor dismissal because Plaintiffs' failure to comply with the court's 3 orders to arbitrate has brought this case to a complete halt. This case has been on the court's docket
4 since it was removed in June 2008, and is no closer to trial than it was on the day of removal. The only 5 proceedings that have taken place since the court granted the Plaintiffs' motion to compel arbitration 6 and stay are the multiple status conferences and actions taken by the court, including an order to show 7 cause why the case should not be dismissed for failure to prosecute. The amount of time the court has 8 spent to manage and move a case that has gone nowhere in more than four years has been at the 9 expense of a huge number of other litigants before the court who need and deserve adjudication of their 10 disputes.

11 The court also finds that both the Arbitration Defendants, and the non-Arbitration Defendants 12 have been prejudiced by this more than four year delay. The Arbitration Defendants were fifty-four 13 days away from an arbitration hearing which would resolve the arbitration parties' disputes when 14 Plaintiffs' counsel brought the arbitration process to a halt. The non-Arbitration Defendants have been 15 prejudiced by the uncertainty of this stayed federal litigation pending against them for more than four 16 years. See Henry, 983 F. 2d at 948 (citing Adriana, 913 F.2d at 1412, and noting "defendant suffers 17 prejudice if the plaintiff's actions impair the defendant's ability to go to trial or threaten to interfere 18 with the rightful decision of the case"). Plaintiffs' failure to arbitrate their claims against the 19 Arbitration Defendants has delayed prosecution of Plaintiffs' claims against the non-Arbitration 20 Defendants. It has interfered with the orderly resolution of this case, and has increased the costs of this 21 litigation for both the Arbitration and non-Arbitration Defendants who have had to participate in 22 preparing status reports and attend status conferences. Thus, the court finds the third factor weighs in 23 favor of case-dispositive sanctions.

24 The fifth factor supports entering case-dispositive sanctions where the court has: (a) explicitly 25 discussed the feasibility of less drastic sanctions, explaining why they are not feasible; (b) implemented 26 alternative sanctions before ordering dismissal; and (c) warned the party of the possibility of dispositive 27 sanctions before ordering them. Id. (citing Malone v. United States Postal Service, 833 F.2d 128, 132 28 (9th Cir. 1987), cert. denied sub nom Malone v. Frank, 488 U.S. 819 (1988)). Despite this elaboration

1 on the fifth factor, however, the Ninth Circuit has found it is “not always necessary for the court to 2 impose less serious sanctions first, or to give any explicit warning.” Valley, 158 F.3d at 1057 (citing 3 Ariana, 913 F.2d at 1413.

4 In this case, the court concludes that less drastic sanctions are unlikely to compel compliance
5 with two orders to arbitrate. On December 8, 2011, the district judge entered an order to show cause 6 why this case should not be dismissed for Plaintiffs’ failure to prosecute. The Plaintiffs were thus 7 clearly on notice that the district judge was considering dismissing the case for Plaintiffs’ failure to 8 prosecute. Despite this, Plaintiffs requested a continuation of the scheduled February 20, 2012, 9 arbitration, and obtained a continuance until April 17, 2012. Two depositions and fifty-four days shy of 10 the fourth arbitration hearing, Plaintiffs refused to go forward with the final two depositions and 11 announced their intention to go back to federal court to raise an issue addressed in the prior motion to 12 rescind the order compelling arbitration. The current motion puts a little different spin on the issue, but it 13 is the same issue about whether the Arbitration Defendants have the financial wherewithal to satisfy a 14 judgment if Plaintiffs are ever able to prove their case.

15 Plaintiffs’ current motion proposes, in essence, to completely start over, dropping the 16 Arbitration Defendants as parties to this litigation, while at the same time litigating whether Plaintiffs 17 can prove any claims against them. Plaintiffs also seek an order substituting the six individual principals 18 who are alleged to stand in the shoes of the Arbitration Defendants which Plaintiffs claim they no longer 19 intend to pursue. Under these circumstances, the court concludes that less drastic sanctions would be 20 ineffective.

21 Case dispositive sanctions are appropriate where four factors support them, or where at least 22 three factors “strongly support” them. See Yourish v. California Amplifier, 191 F.3d 983, 990 (9th Cir.
23 1999) (citing Hernandez v. City of El Monte, 138 F.3d 393, 399 (9th Cir. 1998)). The court finds that 24 the first, second, third, and fifth factors strongly support dismissal. The public policy favoring 25 disposition of cases on their merits clearly weighs against dismissal. However, Plaintiffs’ failure to 26 comply with orders compelling arbitration, even after an order to show cause issued why the case should 27 not be dismissed for failure to prosecute, has delayed this case, disrupted the court’s timely management 28 of its docket, needlessly multiplied these proceedings, wasted judicial resources and the resources of 1 opposing counsel, and has threatened the integrity of the court's orders and the orderly administration of 2 justice. Sanctions less drastic than dismissal are unlikely to compel compliance with the orders to 3 arbitrate.

4 For all of these reasons,

5 IT IS ORDERED that Plaintiffs' Motion to Lift Stay, File Amended Complaint, Amend Caption 6 and Substitute Parties Pursuant to Rule 25(c) (Dkt. #114) is DENIED.

7 IT IS RECOMMENDED that Plaintiffs' case be DISMISSED.
